

PUBLIC LEDGER

FOURTH YEAR. MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1895. ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

Upon THE LEDGER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppliers,

Excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for ordinary notices, resolutions of respect, &c., THE LEDGER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Local in THE LEDGER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—32 times—the bill is $32. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "bill for" notices will be accepted hereafter. There is a definite agreement at the time set and the termination will be pleasant all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Prohibition in Maine is a profitable institution for the state as well as for the drugstores. During this year about $26,000 has been paid into the State Treasury for drug licenses. And yet they tell us that Prohibition prohibits!

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

Some Reading That Will Prove Interesting to Young Mothers—How to Guard Against the Disease.

Croup is a terror to young mothers, and to post them concerning the cause—first symptoms and treatment—is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy, for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For The Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

The jury concluded that as there was to be a general change at Frankfort, N. Bonaparte, &c., was given a commission in the Penitentiary branch of the Government for a year.

The most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman and the woman a mother. At these times Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of inestimable value. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all the ills of womanhood are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure.

BURNED THE BARN.

Arrest of a Couple of Arsonists at Flemingsburg.

The LEDGER some days ago spoke of the arrest at Flemingsburg by Officer Purnell of this city of Thomas Calvert, charged with setting fire to a barn. Warrants were issued at Flemingsburg Monday against Garfield Perkins and Thomas Calvert on the above charge.

The charge against Calvert alone was dismissed and the double warrant issued. Perkins had about 2,500 pounds of tobacco insured for $400, which was burned last week.

A strong smell of burning oil was perceptible during the fire. Both men are under bond to appear for trial November 23d.

POOR "BUNNY" DEAD.

A Woman Whose Name Was Famous Some Years Ago.

A special from Ironton says Miss Clara Campbell of that city, who some few years ago secured a $40,000 judgment against Arbuckle the millionaire coffee dealer in a breach of promise suit, died at Dr. C. G. Gray's sanitarium, three miles below the city, aged 47.

Miss Campbell underwent an operation for tumor last Friday.

It was from the shock attending this operation that she died.

The Campbell-Arbuckle suit, in which Miss Campbell was plaintiff, was one which created a National furor, and the appellations of "Bunny" and "Baby Bunting," by which the principals were known, were household words for months.

Although extremely eccentric, Miss Campbell was of a philanthropic disposition, and had been kind to many of Ironton's destitute families.

THE PRESTON WILL.

It Bobs Up Once More, This Time in Covington.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Maes of Covington was made defendant in a $30,000 suit Monday.

The suit is for the recovery of first mortgage bonds to the amount of $30,000 that were bequeathed to Bishop Maes by Mrs. Mary Howard Preston of Trimble county, who died in that county in 1892.

The suit is filed by the Louisville Trust Company as curator of the estate of Mrs. Preston.

The Security, Trust and Safety Lock Company of Lexington and C. H. and B. W. Wooley, two heirs of the estate, are made party defendants to the suit, owing to their action in declining to act with the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs in their petition state that undue influence was exerted over Mrs. Preston by Bishop Maes in having her to bequeath to him the above mentioned bonds to be used for the benefit of the Roman Catholic Church.

They further claim that Bishop Maes secured the bonds by having the tin box in which they were inclosed in the vaults of the Fidelity Trust and Lock Company of Lexington broken open by a locksmith.

In conclusion, the plaintiffs pray judgment for all monies collected on coupons and all benefits derived from the bonds while in the possession of the defendants.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there, sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by J. James Wood, Druggist.

SOVEREIGN'S SILLINESS.

The Labor Leader Making a Perfect Donkey of Himself.

Courier Journal.

Mr. Sovereign, the Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, is implacable in his opposition to the notes of the National banks. He stands by his boycott of these notes as the greatest act of his life, and invites the Knights to make it effectual.

Anybody has a right under the law to refuse a National bank note. It is not a legal tender for private debts. Whoever chooses may insist that his debt be paid in gold, silver, greenbacks or Sherman notes. The debtor may tender any of these, but the National bank note is receivable only at the option of the creditor.

The National bank note, however, is redeemable on demand in greenbacks, and greenbacks are redeemable in gold or silver at the option of the holder. Thus, though the notes of the bank have no legal tender quality, they are readily convertible into money which no debtor can refuse. Their purchasing power is equal to that of gold or greenbacks. Their debt-paying power is also just the same at present except that a debtor may be forced to go to the trouble of converting them into Treasury notes. This is very seldom done, so that in practice they pay debts as well as other money.

It is not clear what benefit will accrue to the Knights of Labor if they force all who owe them to go to the trouble of getting greenbacks for such National bank notes as may fall into their hands. They could hardly hope to drive the National bank notes out of circulation, but if they did, what would it profit them? The Knights of Labor have heretofore affiliated with the Populists, whose leading demand is for more money. To drive $200,000,000 of notes, now circulating at par, out of the channels of trade is not a good way to get more money. It would contract the currency by that amount, and, if our circulating medium be not redundant, this would have an injurious effect on business and diminish the number of workmen that could get employment. So if Mr. Sovereign's boycott has any effect at all, it seems likely to hurt his followers instead of helping them.

$100—Reward—$100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

Maysville Will Be Connected With the Coal Fields.

The information comes from Morehead that the railroad from Maysville to West Liberty is now assured.

President Hudson of the Hixson-Rodbourn Lumber Company, who went to New York ten days ago to raise a company, reports that he has already sold 250 shares at $1.00 a share, and will have no trouble in disposing of the rest of the stock.

The road will commence at Maysville and run via Johnson Station, Flemingsburg and Hillsboro, over the Cincinnati, Covington and Ashland Railroad tracks.

From Hillsboro to Pine Springs, a distance of 14 miles, the road will have to be built.

From Pine Springs to Rodbourn it will run over the Hixson-Rodbourn Lumber Company's tracks, a distance of 10 miles.

From Rodbourn, via Elliottsville and Sandy Hook to West Liberty, a distance of 32 miles, the road will have to be built.

This line will open up the famous Morgan county canal coal fields, which are said to be the finest in the world.

A fine timber country will also be opened.

The road will be 68 miles long, and will shorten the distance from Morehead to Cincinnati 95 miles.

It will also give this place the benefit of a competition in freight rates.

The road to Pine Springs is not quite completed, but is being pushed as fast as money and men can do the work.

WHERE THEY WERE HELD.

Time and Place of National Conventions For Forty Years.

In view of the very general speculation about when and where the next National Convention will be held, it will be interesting to have for reference the following table of the date, place and nominees of the two parties since 1856:

DEMOCRATIC.

Cincinnati—June 2d, 1856, James Buchanan.

Baltimore—June 18th, 1860, Stephen A. Douglass.

Baltimore—June 11th, 1860, John C. Breckinridge.

Chicago—August 29th, 1864, George B. McClellan.

New York—July 4th, 1868, Horatio Seymour.

Baltimore—July 9th, 1872, Horace Greeley.

St. Louis—June 27th, 1876, Samuel J. Tilden.

Cincinnati—June 22d, 1880, Winfield Scott Hancock.

Chicago—July 8th, 1884, Grover Cleveland.

St. Louis—June 7th, 1888, Grover Cleveland.

Chicago—June 21st, 1892, Grover Cleveland.

REPUBLICAN.

Philadelphia—June 17th, 1856, John C. Fremont.

Chicago—May 16th, 1860, Abraham Lincoln.

Baltimore—June 7th, 1864, Abraham Lincoln.

Chicago—May 20th, 1868, Ulysses S. Grant.

Philadelphia—June 5th, 1872, Ulysses S. Grant.

Cincinnati—June 14th, 1876, Rutherford B. Hayes.

Chicago—June 2d, 1880, James A. Garfield.

Chicago—June 4th, 1884, James G. Blaine.

Chicago—June 19th, 1888, Benjamin Harrison.

Minneapolis—June 7th, 1892, Benjamin Harrison.

For more than a hundred years the Shakers have been studying the remedial properties of plants. They have made many discoveries, but their greatest achievement was made last year. It is a cordial that contains already digested food and is a digester of food. It is effective in removing distress after eating, and creates an appetite for more food, so that eating becomes a pleasure. Pale, thin people become plump and healthy under its use. It arrests the wasting of consumption.

There never has been such a step forward in the cure of indigestion as this Shaker Cordial. Your druggist will be glad to give you a little book descriptive of the product.

SOME PROMINENT WOMEN.

Widows of Distinguished Men Who Reside in Washington.

The widow of James G. Blaine has been a figure in society at the Nation's Capital of special interest during the past season. Although Mrs. Blaine is still in mourning for her distinguished husband, and in consequence does not go out in general society, yet she is found occasionally at the homes of close friends, and has made her appearance on several occasions at small companies. She attended the recent wedding of Miss Leiter, as the relations between the families have been, during recent years, quite intimate. When the Letters came to this city to reside they leased the Blaine house on Dupont Circle, which is near the house they have built and now occupy. At that time Mr. Blaine was in private life, and when he accepted office again he purchased the residence on Lafayette square, which he fitted up for his use, and where his last days were spent. As is well known, that house has been torn down and a theater building is being erected on the site. During the past winter Mrs. Blaine has been living in the big house on Dupont Circle, the only members of the family with her being her son, James G. Blaine, Jr., and Miss Abigail Dodge (Gall Hamilton). A daughter, Mrs. Truxton Beale, however, has her home in this city, while the other daughter, Mrs. Damsch, lives in New York. It is understood that Mrs. Blaine finds the house too large, and does not intend to occupy it for another season. She proposes to lease it furnished, and it is said that Mr. Westinghouse, the inventor of the airbrake, contemplates occupying it the next year.

The widow of another distinguished man, Mrs. U. S. Grant, has been spending the greater part of the winter in Washington, and has been living with her daughter, Mrs. Sartoris, who occupies a leased house. While Mrs. Grant's plans for the future have not been fully decided upon, yet it is understood she intends to make her permanent home here, and has been looking around for a suitable house. It seems to be now pretty certain that Mrs. Sartoris will marry again, the fortunate man, according to rumor, being General Kyd Douglass of Maryland. While General Douglass is a resident of Maryland, yet it is stated he will make his home here after his marriage.

As is well known, the widow of General Logan continued her residence in this city after the death of her husband, and she has always been an active and prominent figure in social and charitable circles. Her home on the heights overlooking the city is one of the points of interest to visitors, and those who gain admission can examine the extensive collection which she has made of mementoes connected with the career of her distinguished husband. In fact, she some time ago had an addition built to the house, where there is a room with a lofty ceiling, and here are collected most of her precious relics. The presence of these and other women who might be mentioned lend an additional interest to the society of the Nation's Capital. They are living representatives of much that is important in the history of this country, and they are objects not only of attention but of respect and affection from thousands of citizens who admire the lives and revere the memories of their husbands.

Another woman whose husband bore a prominent part in the late war, and is regarded with affectionate interest, is the widow of Gen. Phil Sheridan. Mrs. Sheridan was left with quite a family of young children, and the years of her widowhood are being passed in devoted attention to their training and education. It is probable that before many years have passed the valuable public services of all these men will be commemorated by the erection in this city of some suitable memorial. A great many of the heroes of the late war have been honored in this way, and arrangements have been perfected for a statue to General Logan to be placed in this city.

The criticism is sometimes made that while this honor has been paid to men renowned in war, those who have given their time and their services to their country in other capacities have been neglected. There are, however, in this city statues of Abraham Lincoln, Chief Justice Marshall, President Garfield and Professor Joseph Henry. It is not unlikely that in the near future steps will be taken to do honor to the memory of James G. Blaine the statesman.
